Description

Centaur Analytics, Inc. (centaur.ag) is the leading provider of full-stack Internet-of-Things solutions for quality and abundance of agricultural products. Our mission is to dramatically reduce the estimated $1 trillion of post-harvest crop value loss annually from farm to shelf, by deploying our cognitive connected solutions in the global supply chain. Our Internet-of-Crops™ cloud platform provides real-time monitoring of the condition of stored commodities, fusing data from our wireless sensors with weather forecasts and other sources. This provides traceability and end-to-end quality management of stored and transported goods, which can feed to customer ERP systems as well as blockchain ledgers.
